Keep cattle ticks out of NSW

Cattle tick is notifiable in NSW under the Biosecurity Act 2015 (the Act) and animals that carry cattle tick can only enter NSW if they meet certain inspection and/or treatment requirements before entering NSW.

Cattle tick carriers are cattle, buffalo, bison, deer, equine, sheep, goats, camels.

There are legal controls on the entry of cattle tick carriers to NSW. These entry requirements are called 'risk minimisation requirements' and are prescribed under Division 2 Subdivision 1 Cattle tick - carriers in the Biosecurity Order (Permitted Activities) 2019 (BOPA), available at www.legislation.nsw.gov.au.

A record of movement (ROM) must be submitted prior to entry into NSW - <https://app-cattletick.bfs.dpi.nsw.gov.au>.

Resources:
NSW DPI Biosecurity <https://www.dpi.nsw.gov.au/biosecurity/managing-biosecurity/forms>
NSW DPI cattle tick record of movement <https://app-cattletick.bfs.dpi.nsw.gov.au>
NSW legislation www.legislation.nsw.gov.au
QLD cattle tick zones & accredited certifiers for cattle tick <https://www.business.qld.gov.au/>

We recommend speaking with one of our authorised officers on 0429 185 136 or email cattletick@dpi.nsw.gov.au prior to bringing animals into NSW.
